to provide a more long-term solution might be to use a step-by-step approach to the development of a more complete system. The first step would be to develop a system that would allow the user to enter data on a single case, and then to use that data to generate a report. This would be a simple system, but it would be a useful one. The next step would be to develop a system that would allow the user to enter data on multiple cases, and then to use that data to generate a report. This would be a more complex system, but it would be a more useful one. The final step would be to develop a system that would allow the user to enter data on multiple cases, and then to use that data to generate a report. This would be the most complex system, but it would be the most useful one.
