As a result of the above findings, there are no significant differences between the mean number of days worked by females and males, except for those who did not work at all. The mean number of days worked by females is 10.2, while for males it is 10.5. Females work slightly more than males.

These results will be used to estimate the effect of different types of policies on the environment and the economy. The results will also be used to evaluate the effectiveness of different environmental policies, such as taxes, subsidies, and regulations, in achieving environmental goals.

同时对通过的每一种植物都进行鉴定并记录在植物学标本上。这样，植物学家们就能知道在该地区生长的所有植物。
