A group of men are gathered around the banner. One man in the foreground is wearing a grey shirt and has an orange shawl draped over his shoulders. Other men are in various attire, including a white shirt and a yellow shirt.

Two men are standing prominently in the foreground. One is wearing a white kurta and a light green vest, and the other is wearing a dark brown t-shirt and white pants. They appear to be engaged in conversation or observing the banner.

A woman in a light pink kurta and a yellow shawl is standing on the right side of the frame, looking towards the group of men.

In the background on the left, a person is visible near a water source, possibly a well or a tap, with some white containers nearby.
